feather YOUR NEST

This year we celebrate 50 years since Alfred Hitchcock unleashed The Birds onto cinema screens; the film that made the career of actress Tippi Hedren and her feather-dappled green suit. The movie may be vintage but the feathers have remained, and right now they are visible all over the fashion and design worlds — from the catwalk to stationery to surrealistic lampshades. Whether contained behind the face of a Dior watch (below) or beautifying your walls in Elitis's new range of wallpapers (opposite page), Hitch would be happy to hear that feathers are back with a vengeance.
